

Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

A275.2
Ex827F

UNITED STATES
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
LIBRARY

BOOK NUMBER

914801

A275.2

Ex827F

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
FEDERAL EXTENSION SERVICE
Washington 25, D. C.

FEDERAL EXTENSION SERVICE PROGRAM PROJECTION COMMITTEES

- A. Basic assumptions affecting people - E. C. Scott, Chairman
Including price level, trends in Government programs and war or peace, and business outlook. Farm costs, trends in urbanization, agricultural credit, monetary, and fiscal policies affecting people.
- B. Population and the Family - J. L. Matthews, Chairman
1. Composition, movement and trends in population, trends in labor force movements
 2. Trends in family size, educational level, delinquency, divorce, wife working away from home, impact on communities
- C. Family living - Eunice Heywood, Chairman
1. Costs, including services
 2. Nutrition - levels, deficiencies, attitudes
 3. Clothing - trends, types of fabrics, etc.
(Housing - landscaping, structures, adequacy of size)
 4. (Household equipment - types, trends
(House furnishings)
 5. Family life and child development
 6. Health
- D. Community services, trends, and problems --C. C. Lang, Chairman including health, education, recreation, safety, vocational opportunities, etc.
- E. Commodities (production, marketing, utilization, consumption) - Karl Shoemaker, Chairman
Sharon Hoobler, Assistant
- | | |
|---------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. Meat animals | 8. Cotton |
| 2. Dairy | 9. Grains |
| 3. Poultry | 10. Fruits |
| 4. Sugar | 11. Vegetables and dry beans |
| 5. Grass and legume seeds | 12. Potatoes and sweet potatoes |
| 6. Forest Products | 13. Tobacco |
| 7. Fats and oils | 14. Minor commodities |
- F. Use and conservation of natural resources - W. R. Tascher, Chairman
- G. A composite analysis of agriculture by areas or regions. Included in this section will be items such as changes in the economy of a region or areas as they affect agriculture, comparative advantage of various areas from the standpoint of production and marketing costs.

